Now Playing on: MORNING Swim Show

More than 300 of the best athletes and coaches in the world have appeared on "The Morning Swim Show" since its debut on www.SwimmingWorldMagazine.com in January 2008. Some of our favorite interviews took place this summer, and we would like to present eight of those shows for our premium subscribers to watch in our digital issue of Swimming World Magazine.

May 14: Jessica Hardy gives her first major interview since testing positive for a banned substance at the 2008 U.S. Olympic Trials.

May 15: Elizabeth Beisel talks about her life in and out of the pool, and diver Troy Dumais looks forward to the World Championships.

June 9: Leisel Jones gives viewers insight on her decision to skip the World Championships and winning individual gold at the Olympics.

June 19: Ron Johnson's final interview before his untimely passing details the symmetrical wave freestyle and its recent resurgence.

July 25: Four-time Olympian Amanda Beard talks about her pregnancy, her experience at the Beijing Olympics and the chance of a comeback.

July 27: Rowdy Gaines relives the emotions of the 1980 Olympic boycott and winning three gold medals at the 1984 Olympics.

Aug. 21: Tyler Clary relives his experiences at World Championships and how he expects to swim faster at NCAAs despite the swimsuit ban.

Aug. 31: Fran Crippen owns up to his error in judgment at Worlds, and Stewart Goossens talks about his swim across the Strait of Gibraltar.
